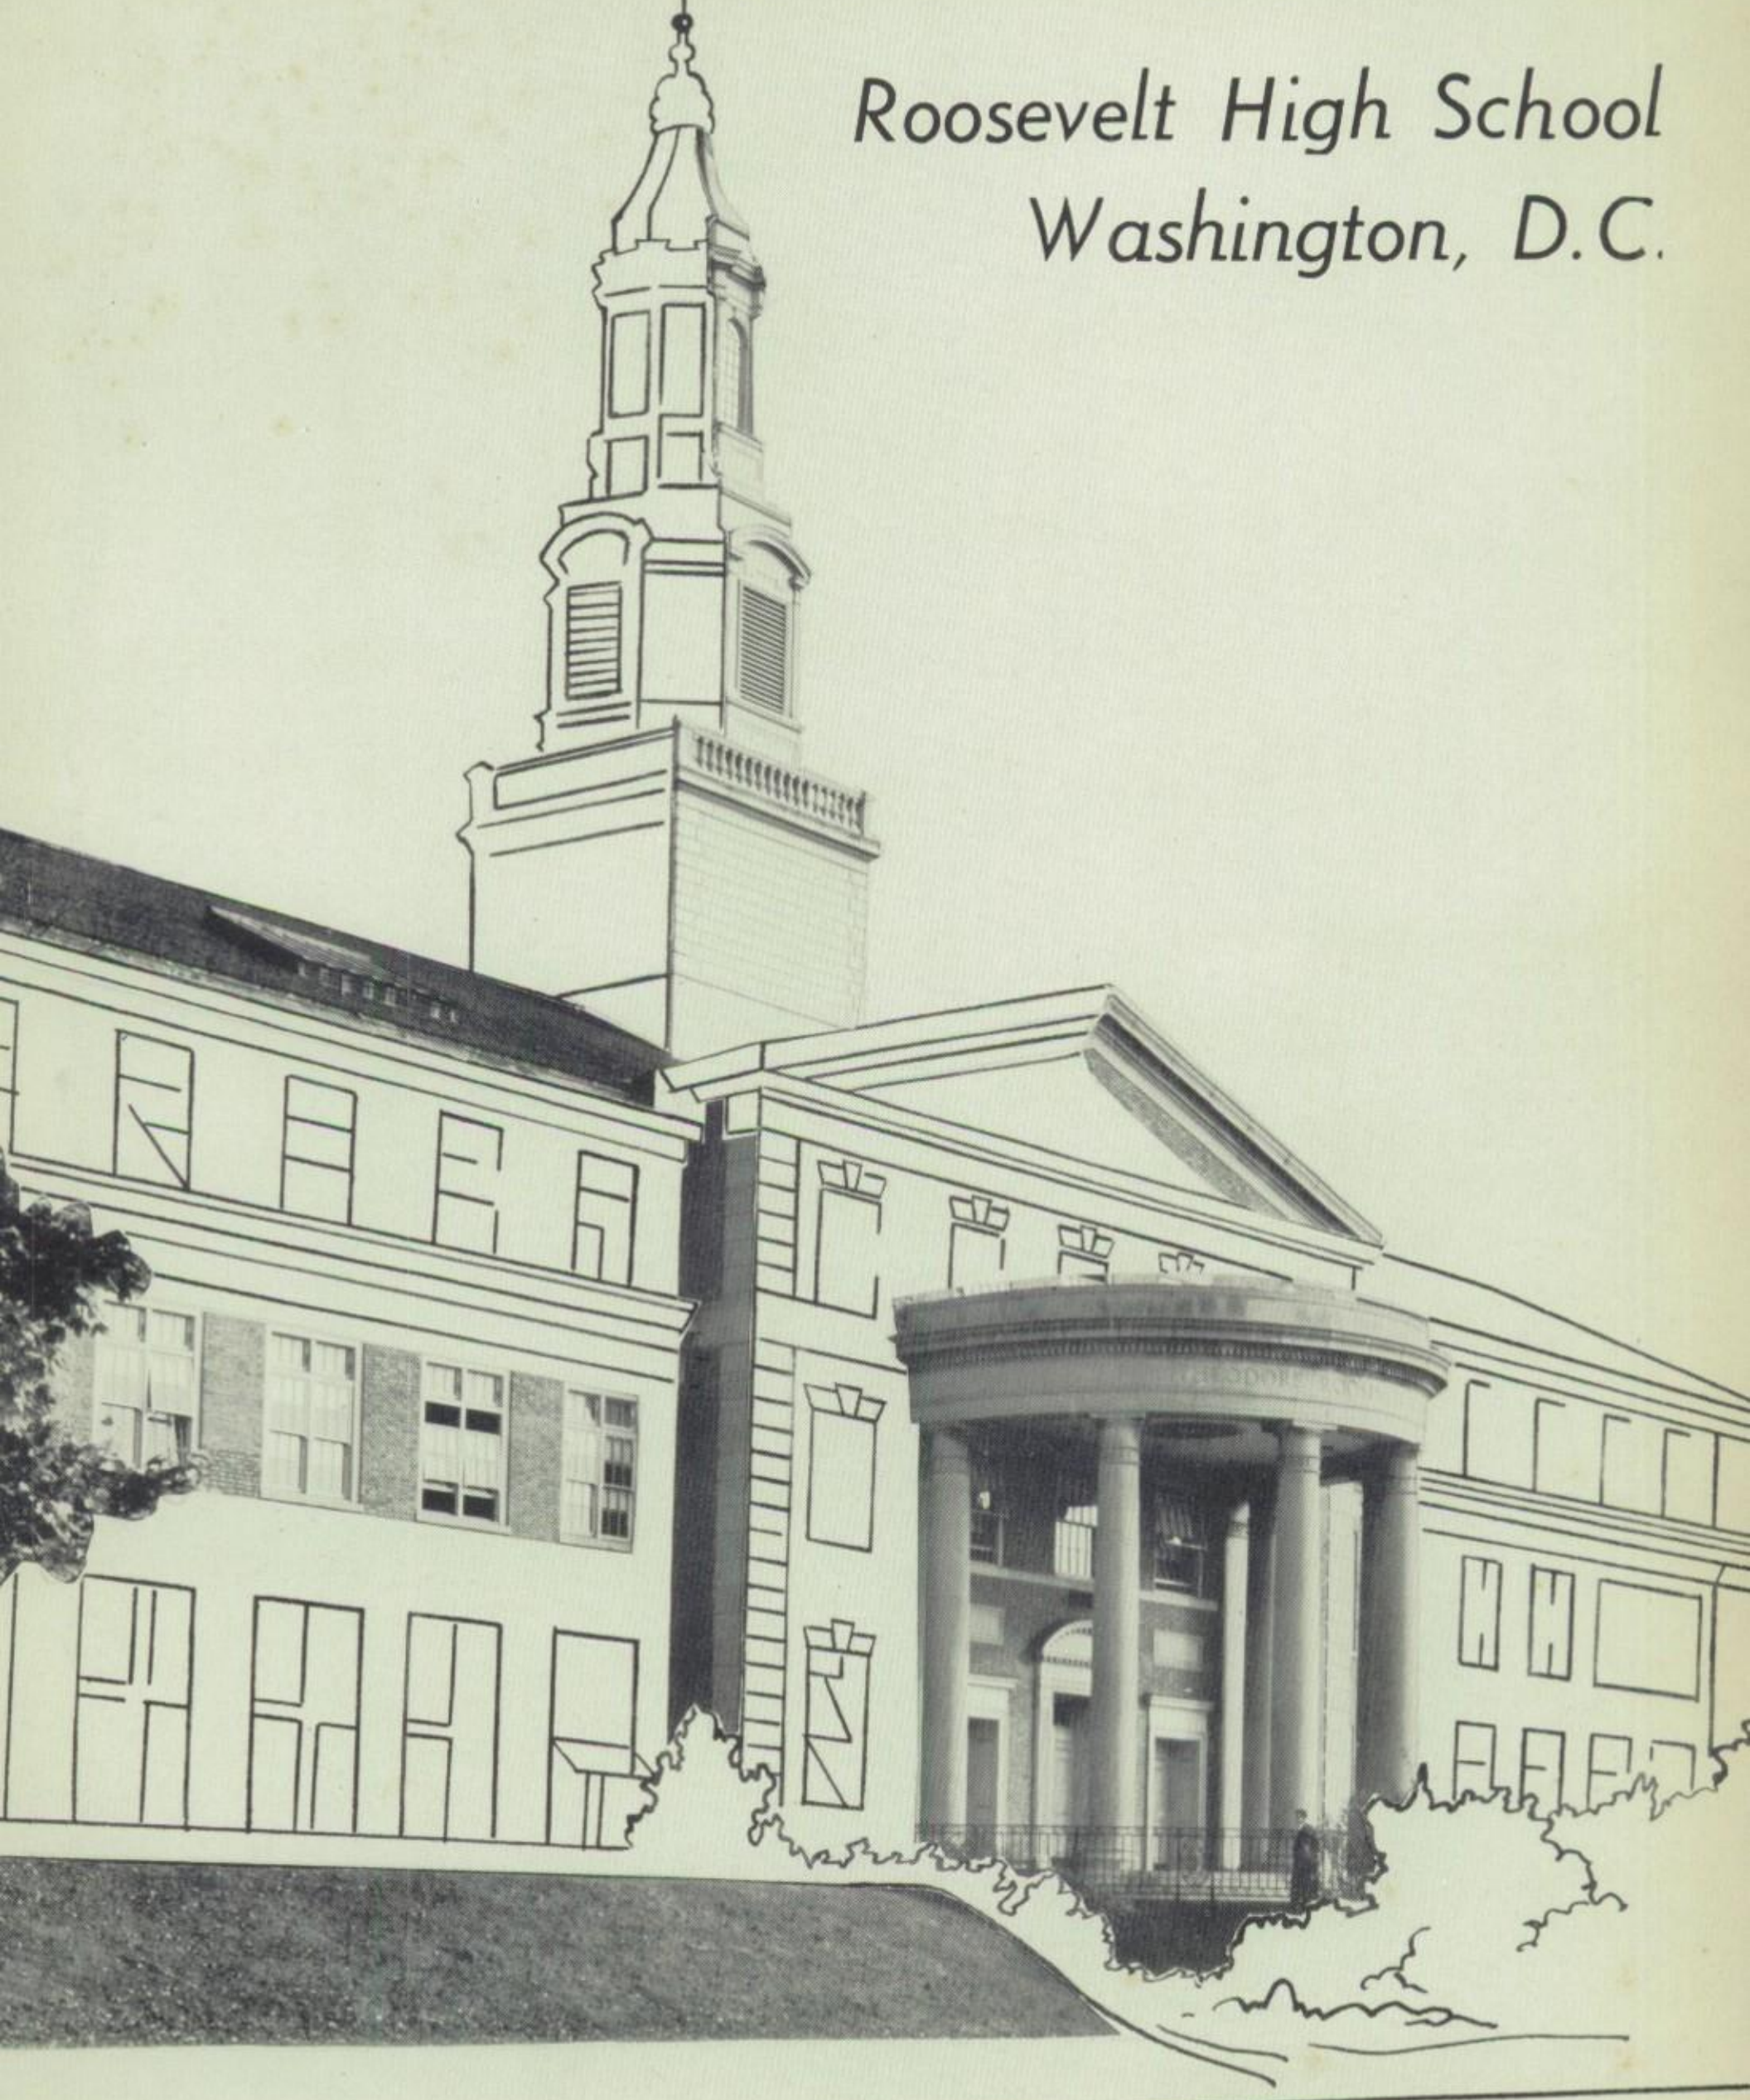
ROUGH RIDER 1953

Roosevelt High School

Washington, D.C.



It's All In a Day

Preparation for our coming responsibilities is the goal of each school day. Striving to obtain cooperative attitudes and a wide background of knowledge, we advance toward a more genuine understanding of the society we are to inherit.

The ringing of the bell at 9:00 is merely superficial to the cheerful greetings of our friends on their way to the red brick building on the hill. This is the real start of our school day. The end comes after football practice, after the dishes have been washed in the club room, or after the science labs have been cleaned following an explosive meeting.

These experiences, typical of a day in school, are here in your ROUGH RIDER of 1953.

School begins early and lasts late for our teachers. Eight-thirty finds them signing in at the beginning of a new day.

THEIRS IS THE FUTURE.....Page 16

It's 9:00 o'clock. The halls are cleared. Students are now in their homerooms for briefing on the day's procedure.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.....Page 50

Classes begin at 9:30—lectures, labs, discussions, tests, and the inevitable homework. Here you have the students caught in the act.

THE DAY ISN'T OVER YET.....Page 68

The last bell rings at 3:00 o'clock. Books slam shut, doors burst open, students pour forth. "Club or game today?"

The gym, the stadium, the clubroom, the auditorium, that's where you find the doings after dark at Roosevelt.

The day begins at 8:30 for our teachers as their greetings and comments resound throughout the office. Balancing in whatever manner possible books, test papers which they worked so hard to correct, flowers to add to the attractiveness of their rooms, and pictures to illustrate the coming lessons, our instructors sign in to begin their tasks.

The school day begins early for them—from here the hours of work, enjoyment, and satisfaction will follow.

The Faculty — A Stimulus

Self Realization

To the Graduates of 1953:

Benjamin Franklin has said, "Nothing is more important for the public welfare than to form and train up youth in wisdom and virtue. Wise and good men are, in my opinion, the strength of a state far more than riches or arms." President Eisenhower has voiced a similar sentiment when he said that America will remain strong as long as it remains good.

To you, who have just received your diplomas, I should like to emphasize the importance of virtue as well as wisdom and to reiterate the need of good men and women to keep our country strong and great. May the members of the graduating classes of 1953 be renowned for high standards of learning and character as they write their names in the hall of fame.

Competence

Dummy day's dynamics! Editor Joel Rosenbloom (seated on desk) eyes his busy staff of Carole Townsend, Marvin Perlman, Susan McHenry, Diana Weaver, and Anne Frank.

Youth learns the rights and duties of the citizen as he lives with his fellow student, assumes responsibilities, and performs obligations. He experiences, vicariously, past events through recorded history, law, and literature, whereby he is impressed with worthwhile attitudes and acquires the skills of self expression.

"Et Voila! C'est comme cela," says Madame Girard. Yet Nancy Wells, Michael Maloney, Sanford Brotman, Gerry Wartofsky, Pat Moreland, Sandra Glaser, Pat Sherer and Florence King still look a little bewildered.

International Outlook

As nationalism gives way to internationalism and the barriers separating nation from nation are lowered, our outlook becomes worldwide. Language is the universal means of communication. The study of foreign languages is the key to the understanding of groups differing from one's own group. Through this understanding prejudices and provincialisms disappear and we become citizens of the world.

The vocational subjects include merchandising and the various business skills requisite to office work including office machines operation and print shop technique. The office practice program and cooperative training placement provide for supervised work experiences.

The home economics curriculum instills attitudes and concepts conducive to satisfactory family life as well as points up phases promising a satisfying vocation. Specific vocational skills acquired in the classroom and on the job training will enable us to enter the working world with assurance of economic success.

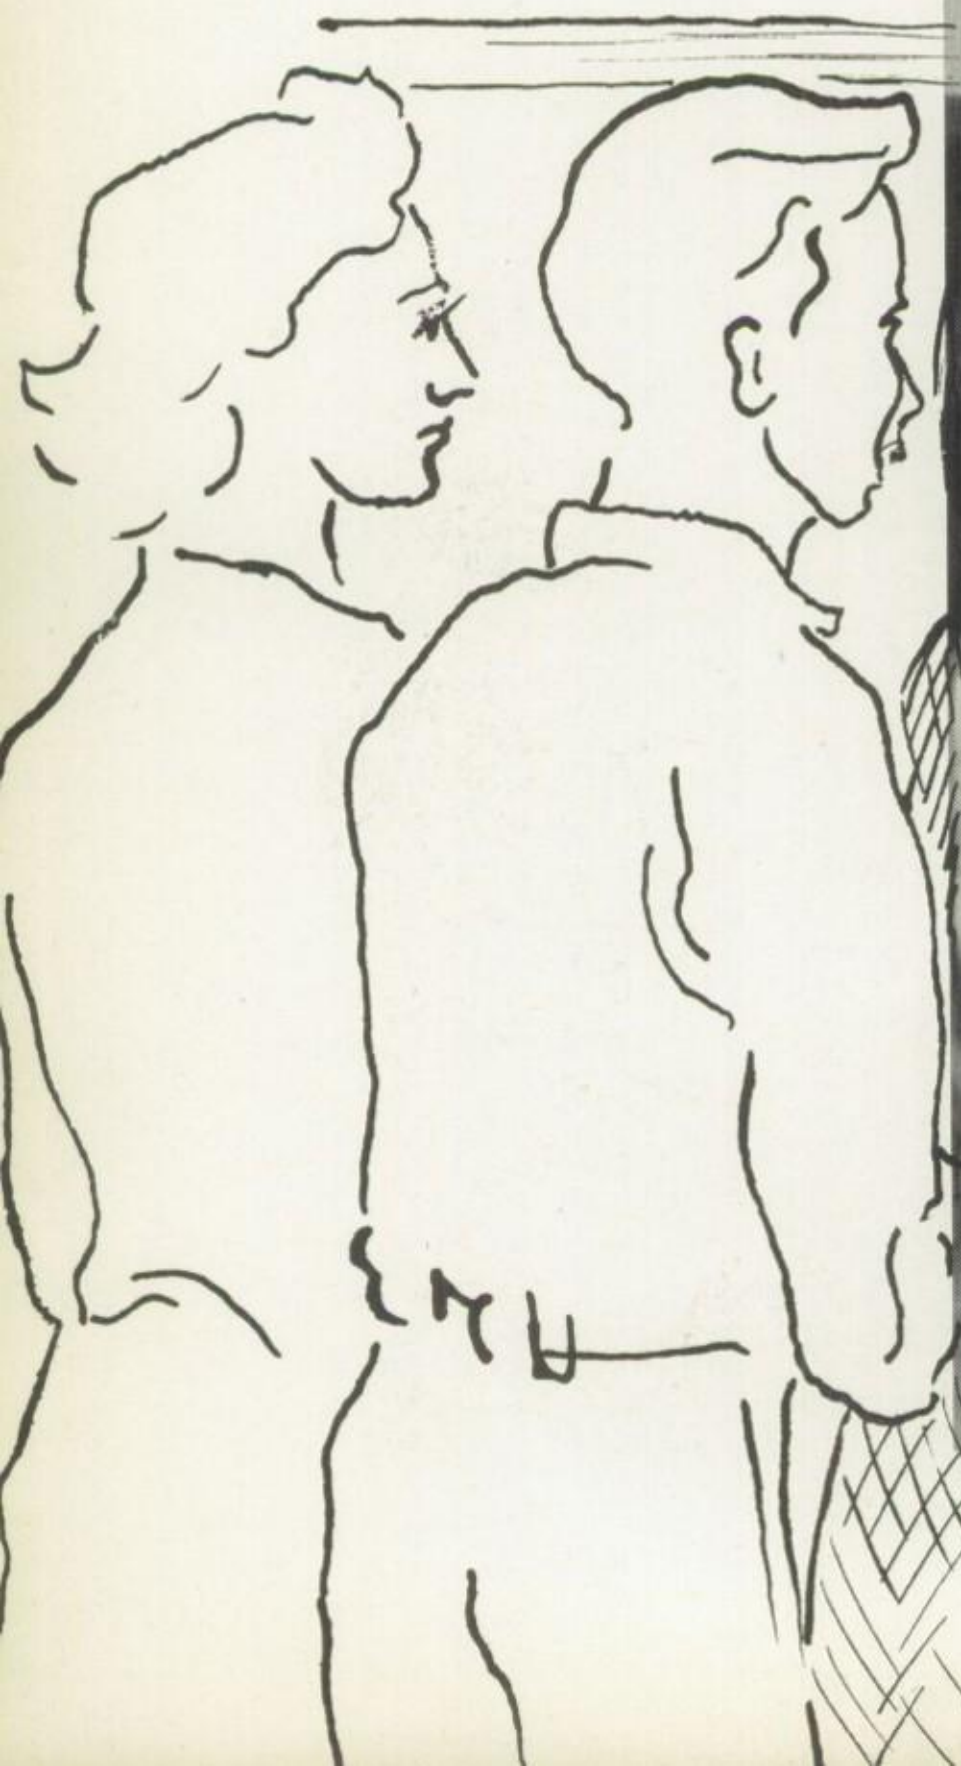
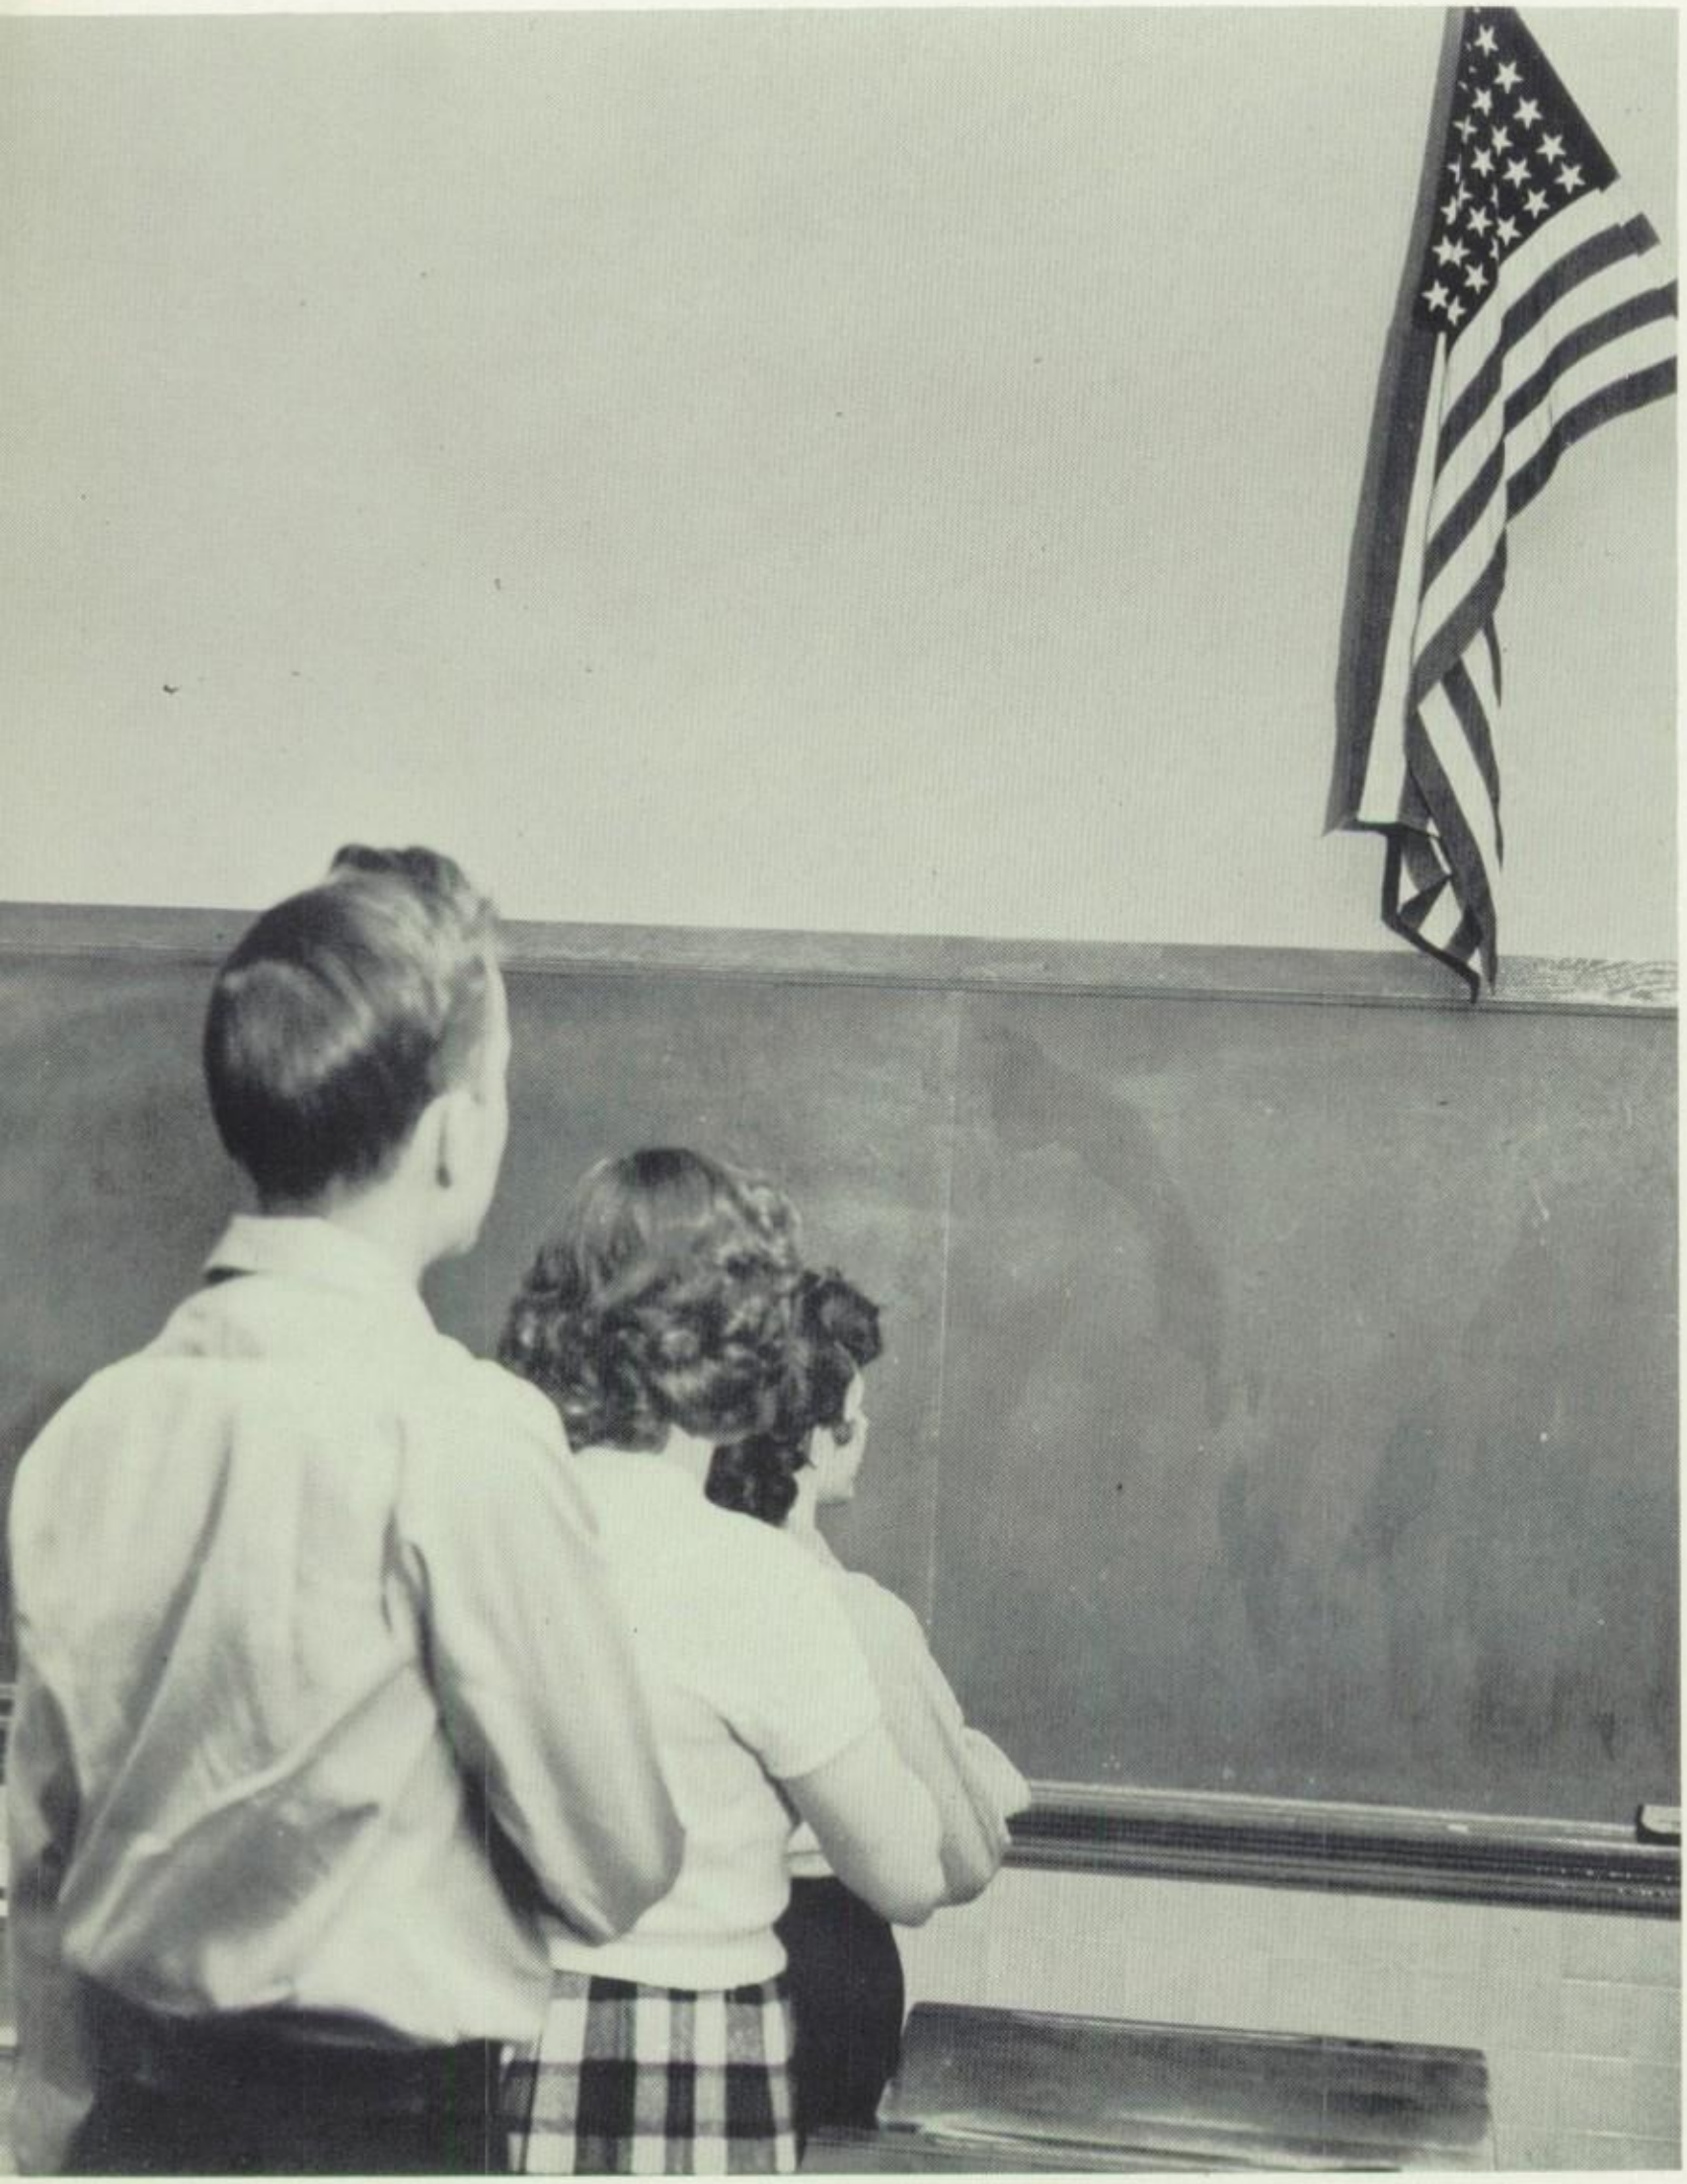
The bell rings at 9:00, the halls are cleared and the activity of busy students can be heard from room to room as they meet with their section teacher to catch up on last night's homework, to discuss the day's agenda, and to talk over school problems.

Inside these pages are those friends and classmates—seniors, juniors, sophomores—whom you have come in contact with in your short stay at Roosevelt.



Theirs is the Future



Super seniors Jerry Parks, President; Malcolm Mugmon, Vice President; Sosie Najarian, Secretary; and Louie Sheldon, Treasurer, are the big wheels of the February Class!

February Graduates Aim High

RICHARD DONALD ADDISON Tennis, Golf, Baseball. As a native of California, "Chick" dislikes Washington weather and plans to study medicine at U.C.L.A.

BARBARA ALBERT Spanish Club, Girl Cadet Boosters. Bobbye's red hair is no indication of her disposition. Quiet and reserved, she's a lover of music and canasta.

ANNE PRISCILLA ALLING REPORTER Staff. Anne is already an adventurer and has shared with us her experiences in Morocco, Spain, and the jungles of Africa.

ALVIN SIMON ATLAS Latin Club. The odds are 8-5 that "Al" will be seen at Md. U. next year, sporting a 5 o'clock shadow and flashy clothes.

HARRIET AUGER Athletic Club, Basketball, Baseball, Bowling, Badminton. Whether you're in the market for a top flight secretary or a bit of sumptuous cooking that's "BeBe." Look her up at Strayer's, boys.

HARRIET GERALDINE AUSLANDER Section Secretary, Science Club Treasurer, French Club, Discussion Club. Harriet, a vivacious miss, is looking forward to a bright future. Her sweet personality will put her at the top in any career.

MARY ELLEN BARBER Section Treasurer, Cadet Boosters, Bowling, Badminton, Bible Club, Chorus. "Kitten" sings, plays the piano and just digs hillbilly music.

PHYLLIS RAE BENJAMIN National Honor Society, Valedictorian, Student Council, Discussion Club, Science Club, Camera Club President, Spanish Club, French Club, Dramatic Club, REPORTER Staff, ROUGH RIDER Staff, Red Cross. Miss Perpetual Motion, Phyl's a real Johnny on the spot. A psychology major, she'll be the sweetest prescription you ever had.

SHEILA MARCIA BERG Spanish Club, Science Club, Secretarial Club, Chorus. Alabama, here she comes. Sheila plans to attend the University where we are sure she will be a hit.

PHYLLIS GLORIA BERNSTEIN Phyllis is a graduate from our summer school.

WILLIAM LYONS BERRY Spanish Club. The sports all successful men enjoy, golf and fishing, are tops on Bill's list. Bill will be a G.W. law student.

SHIRLEY ANN BOARDMAN Section Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer. Shirl's known for an inexhaustible supply of pep and vitality as well as a consuming interest in American U.

GERALDINE BRAUNSTEIN Gerry, a native New Yorker, may well end up as a prominent Wall Street Banker.

JANET ANN BRUCHIE Student Council, Section Treasurer and Secretary, Girls' Sports Association, Cheerleaders, Cadet Boosters, Badminton, Baseball. Peppy and athletic, Janet is heading for a career in home economics. She'll be a swell dish to come home to.

LANYA BULMAN Chorus. "Lanny" aspires to designing. She will "paint her way to fame" in the years to come.

EUGENE GERALD BURDWISE "Bud" will make a career of his two favorite subjects, sports and mechanics.

SUE ANN CANTOR French Club. Sue, who likes to draw and travel, will be seen dashing across the campus of Md. U.

JOY DARLIENE CAPPS Section Secretary, Secretarial Club Secretary, Cadet Booster, Swimming Club, Bowling, Baseball, Basketball. Joy's friendly personality makes everyone feel at home. Strayer's Business College is the next stop.

CHRISTO GEORGE CHACONAS Chris will always be remembered for his love of fun. He wants to be and we quote, "A barber so I won't have to pay for my haircuts."

FELICIA LOUISE CHIPOURAS Basketball, Baseball, Badminton. This lively Cookie is "crazy" over dancing and joking; we can be sure she'll liven up the ward when she becomes a nurse.

LULA CHARLES CHRISTAKOS Girls' Sports Association, Cadet Boosters, REPORTER Business Staff. This package of talent can be seen at all times either driving, playing the piano, yelling, or teaching boys to dance.

D. Cohen

R. Colachicco

DONALD STEWARD COHEN Football, Track, R Club. "Wine, women, and song"—they're for Don.

ROSEMARY CONSTANCE COLACHICCO Chorus, Baseball. Rosie is quite fond of dancing and Johnnie Rae. She will make some guy a grand secretary.

N. Crow

A. Das Gupta

NANCY RUTH CROW ROUGH RIDER Staff, Cadet Boosters, Girls' Sports Association, Baseball, Swimming, Badminton, Basketball. This girl "Peewee Reese," and a terrific artist to boot, plans to attend Pratt Art Institute.

ALAKNANDA DAS GUPTA National Honor Society Secretary, Section Secretary, Dramatic Club Secretary, Discussion Club Secretary, Salutatorian, ROUGH RIDER Staff, Y-Teen Inter-Club Council Representative, Chorus. Our Voice of Democracy finalist from Bengal, India, carries the mystery of the Orient in her lambent eyes.

F. Debole

D. Duffey

FRANK JOSEPH DEBOLE Football, Print Shop. Frank, with his interest in agriculture, plans a career in agronomy. He also can play a little football, so keep your eye on the sports pages.

DIANE ELIZABETH DUFFEY Section Secretary, Chorus, Spanish Club, Cadet Boosters. Diane's interest in singing will lead her into the hearts of many musical fans in years to come.

ELIZABETH CECELIA ECONOMOPOULOS Section President and Vice-President. Liz, our model miss, will be America's favorite cover girl.

CHARLOTTE LEE EDELMAN Wherever you find dancing, music or people—that's where you'll find Charlotte.

MARGARET ANNE FLETCHER A graduate from summer school.

OSWALD FRANCHI Baseball. Hailing from Italy, Ozzie has taken to American dancing and music—the accordion to be exact.

SANDRA JANET GLASER National Honor Society, Spanish Club President, Section Secretary, Science Club Secretary, French Club. With her knowledge of languages Sandy will never get lost. After attending Wilson Teachers' College we will probably find Sandy back at school, teaching.

CHARLES ALLAN GRAD Geography Club, Camera Club. Proof that Allan likes things high is his interest in flying planes and his fines on library books.

ARTHUR MITCHELL GROVES Boys' Glee Club Treasurer, Baseball. A future C.P.A. with a love for music and a craving for athletics—that's Arthur.

JOHN M. GYORDA, JR. Football, Basketball. This big blond athlete who hails from Scranton, Pa., is seaward bound. He'll have a girl in every port.

JACQUELINE RAE HARDING Cadet Boosters, Bowling, Baseball, Basketball. This versatile Miss likes everything from art and music to sports.

HARRY HANSON HARRIS Football, Track, Cadets, Chorus, Section Treasurer. Casey has many talents but plans to go into engineering to help with those car troubles.

WILLIAM HERBERT HAZELL Section Vice President, Football, Track, R Club. Bill will make a wonderful artist with his talent for drawing and his eye for beauty.

BENJAMIN DAVID HEIN Chorus, Track. Dave is our "next millionaire." Strictly on the sociable side he's all fun and a swell guy.

HARRIET JANE HILTON Dramatic Club, Bible Club, Chorus. Harriet's cleverness with a pen and pad will long be remembered. The crystal ball reflects a future in nursing for this fair lady.

SHIRLEY ANNE HUDGINS Student Council, Section Vice President, Girls' Sports Association, Cadet Boosters, Bowling, Badminton, Miss Junior, 1951. Cute and petite, Shirley will make someone a nice home after training at Md. U.

PATRICIA LOU JOHNSON Section Secretary, Y-Teens, Girls' Sports Association, Bible Club, Cadet Boosters, Baseball. Friendly Pat is known throughout school and now she plans to attend Strayer's Business College.

GWENDOLYN LEE KELSO Bible Club, Bowling, Chorus, Latin Club. Gwen was a shining star in our former Cadet Corps for girls. She is going to the Providence Bible Institute.

JOAN MARY LOFTUS Section Secretary and Vice President, Bible Club President, REPORTER Staff, Latin Club, Y-Teen Club. Jo's lovable personality and ambition will help her to be an ideal teacher.

ELOISE REBECCA LOHR Student Assembly Committee Vice President, Chorus, Cadet Boosters, R.H.S. Trio, Cheerleaders, Basketball, Baseball. Ella's lovely voice often thrilled her appreciative audience.

MERTON HARVEY LYNN Section Vice President, Spanish Club Vice President, Chorus. Mert likes Marilyn Monroe, good food, and clothes. Md. U. will be his future home.

CONSTANTINE GEORGE MANTZOURANIS Gus, one of those rare Washingtonians, plans a drafting career after attending Columbia Tech.

HARVEY MARGULIES Baseball. Don't be surprised if Harvey's hobby leads him into the bright blue yonder. In the meanwhile look for him in the accounting school of G.W.

PHYLLIS DIANE MENSH Spanish Club, Red Cross Club, Discussion Club, Dramatic Club. Phyl, having decided on a career of social work, will probably be at G.W. next year, enjoying good music and fine people.

ALVIN MILLER Section Vice President, Science Club Vice President, Spanish Club, Orchestra, REPORTER Staff. That dancing freshman at G.W.U. will be Alvin Miller. It's dentistry or pharmacy for him.

MELVIN MALCOLM MUGMON Class Vice President, R Club Treasurer, Football. Football and pre-med will make Malcolm a big hit wherever he goes.

June Graduates Seek New Frontiers

The students' choices! The June graduating officers are Morris Piver, President; Ado Valge, Vice President; Lynne Bennett, Secretary; and Nancy Jackson, Treasurer.

HOWARD ALBERT Cadet Major, Rifle Club, Drill Team, Sabre Club, Science Club, Spanish Club. The next perfection of a highly specialized cosmotron will be effected by Dr. Albert.

WILLIAM DALE AMOS R Club, Football, Basketball, Track. All around guys like Bill are wanted in college and that football scholarship indicates that he'll be headlining the sports page for a few more years.

KATHERINE EDITH ANDREWS Chorus, Bible Club, Cadet Boosters, Chairman Student Assembly Committee. Kathy, whose sweet, quiet way charmed us all, will certainly have no trouble finding a boss to please.

ANNIE ARDIZZONE As she awaits her turn between fashion shows, Annie will pass the time eating spaghetti and meatballs.

ANTOINETTE ARDIZZONE It's dentistry or a typing career for "Toni."

WILLIAM EDWARD BEITZ National Honor Society, Science Club, Student Assembly Committee. Horses will occupy Bill's spare time—that is, any time left over after his career, chemical engineering.

MANDELL BELLMORE Student Council. We can see Mandell now, telling jokes as he quietly blows a fuse in the Md. U. Electrical Construction School.

MADELYN VIRGINIA BENNETT National Honor Society, Student Council, Class Secretary, Girls' Sports Association President, Secretarial Club President, Spanish Club, Badminton, Bowling, Basketball. Loaded with energy and charm, Lynne is a sparkling good time.

RICHARD HOWARD BILLINGS Cadet Captain, Drill Team Captain, Sabre Club Vice President, Rifle Team. After seeing Dick perform in cadets, we can be sure he'll wear the brass for Uncle Sam.

MARLENE CATHERINE BILLY Regimental Ball Queen, Miss Junior 1952, Christmas Dance Queen, Student Council, Girls' Sports Association Treasurer, Cadet Boosters Treasurer, Cheerleader Co-Captain, Bible Club. Ooh, la la! Marlene has three distinct advantages for the future—beauty, versatility and personality. How can she miss?

CHRISTINA BIRDAS Secretarial Club, Y-Teens, Chorus, Basketball, Baseball. This brunette, with a varied list of activities, plans to be a stenographer.

HERMAN STANLEY BLUMENTHAL Latin Club, Science Club, Discussion Club, Rifle Club, Cadet Captain. Everybody's "Buddy," Herman plans a career in chemical engineering.

JOSEPH ANTHONY BONANNO Camera Club. We predict that musical Joe and his accordion will soon be heading a big name band.

DOROTHY EDNA BOWMAN Bank. It's banana ice cream and a bookeeping career for Dotty.

PATRICIA GAY BOWMAN Secretarial Club, Girls' Sports Association. If you see a flying baseball bat or a pencil taking shorthand, it's probably Pat behind the action.

ALLEN GORDON BURGESS National Honor Society, District of Columbia Brigade Colonel, Stage Crew Manager, Rifle Club Vice President, "Adjutant" Editor, Sabre Club Secretary, Map Team Co-Captain, Drill Team Captain. Cadets and electrical engineering don't mix, but Allen is graduating from one to the other.

NELLA PATRICIA CALAMOS Section Treasurer, Secretarial Club, Cadet Boosters, Bible Club, Girls' Sports Association. Here's a piano playing secretary who's also hep on sports and men.

At 9:30 the halls are filled with students laden with heavy books, hurrying to classes.

There are the chemistry and physics labs to witness the wonders of science. The biology tables are ready with dissecting instruments to satisfy probing minds, and the history maps are down, awaiting those imaginative explorations of the past. The print and metal shops are buzzing with creative activity of various kinds, whereas the art and mechanical drawing rooms are quiet but busy with artistic talent.

Caught in the Act

Roosevelt's Democratic Way

Lynne Bennett makes her contribution to Jim Gibbons' Country Store, as Marlene Billy and James Keene check it in.

Talking over plans for the Christmas Dance, and counting the cans of food which went to underprivileged families, are Roger Spitzer and Barbara Allen.

The voice of the student body is carried to the administration through the Student Council.

This Council, composed of elected representatives from each section, meets every Tuesday morning and considers all problems and suggestions brought to the attention by the pupils. After receiving student opinion and administrative approval, the Council strives to make these suggestions become realities. In short this national organization is the backbone of the student body, and affords a means of coordination between the faculty and the students. Carried on by the pupils, it is truly a part of the democratic way of life here at Roosevelt.

This year the Council has stimulated student participation in school activities by the presentation of a Top Section Award, given to the homeroom the Council considered most outstanding.

The collection of Care packages and Braille slates plus the distribution of food baskets were also promoted by this student governing body. Social events were popular on Roosevelt students' lists, and again the Council set forth a highly successful program, highlighted by the Christmas dance and food drive for Jim Gibbons' Country Store.

Student Day, May 7, was carried on by the Council; the soap drive and the advisory movies are two further contributions the Student Council has made to Roosevelt. The newly formed dance club, so widely recognized here in so short a time, is another Council sponsored activity and another instance where it has come out first.

As long as Democracy exists here at Roosevelt, the Student Council, comprised of students and under a student leader, will continue to further the school and its ideals.

Everyone Reads The Reporter

Few students have as much fun or work to do as the staff of the Roosevelt REPORTER, our school's paper. The members of the staff have their inquisitive little noses in all R.H.S. affairs and are clever, if eccentric interrogators. Rushing around gleaning facts from teachers and students, "staffers" are the ones flying down the corridors in hot pursuit of news. Our paper also provides an opportunity for "writers" to have their essays or poems published.

"Deadline day" is probably the most impelling phrase in the minds of the staff, for this is the time when all material must be ready for the printer. On this day lights often shine after dark in the journalism lab as there are headlines, bylines, sub-heads, and stories to be written before the articles can be sent to the printer. After the first printing, when the "galleys" are brought back to the school, they must be corrected, cut, and pasted into a plan which is called a "dummy." The paper is now ready for its final printing. Publication week, however, does not tell the complete story of a journalist's job. Rather it is the culmination of a good deal of industrious preparation that has gone before.

There are moments of chaos, minutes of worry and hours of work, but when the presses roll, the REPORTER comes out a top notch paper for Roosevelt.

Editors' delight! Four Reporter "chiefs," Jack Bowers, Co-Sports Editor; Ann Goodman, Second-Page Editor; Goldie Weiss and Joel Rosenbloom, Co-Editors-in-Chief, scan the last issue.

High finances! Alan Berger, Business Manager, discusses the financial status of the Reporter with Shirley Lemley and Morris Piver. Things seem to be looking up for the business staff.

Last minute rush! Roger Spitzer, Co-Sports Editor, and Carol Townsend examine ad space. While Diana Weaver dictates to Susan McHenry, Anne Frank copyreads.

The Book of the Year — The Rough Rider

Every year a staff is gathered for the privilege of compiling a school yearbook, a book which will cover completely our activities throughout the year, a book to be planned and written by a group of students. This is the Roosevelt ROUGH RIDER. It is an important job, and often a tedious one, but it's lots of fun.

Working on the school yearbook gives students interested in writing an opportunity to write; those interested in photography an opportunity to plan and pose pictures; and to those who are just plain proud of their school, it is an opportunity to get in on an educational experience that is quite enjoyable.

The staff of the yearbook learns how to accomplish miracles quickly and efficiently with the touch of genii. Some of the more wondrous feats of this year's staff were securing photographs of faculty members, describing realistically and briefly the seniors, ascribing to them the activities of their school career, and financing the whole project. Aside from tramping the streets for ads, the staff often worked till dusk, discussing, planning pages, and writing the articles.

An interesting and complete yearbook that will bring back, vividly, memories of friends, the team, club meetings or the big dance . . . this is the goal towards which the staff has taken pleasure and pride in working.

Literary minds at work! Doris Rosenberg, Goldie Weiss, Beatrice Stern, Helen Roushakes, Alaknanda Das Gupta, and Diana Weaver peer over the shoulders of Ann Goodman, Florence King, Elizabeth Nelson, Layout Editor, Carolyn Schoenfeld, Roger Spitzer, Editor-in-Chief, Myra Kipnis, Assistant Editor, and Marie Vines, Literary Editor, to gather their wits and help put the yearbook to bed.

Forward March

"Forward march" continues to be the watchword of the Roosevelt Cadet Corps as we complete another year of training. The drill, classes, and tests in the companies were supplemented by special teams, dances, picnics, and the competitive drills.

Our Drill Team presented many ceremonial drills during the year, while the Rifle Team competed with teams throughout the city for the city championship. Many hours of study qualified our map team for the map problems competitions.

RIFLE TEAM First row: Samuel Levine, Henry Aschenbach, Seymour Osheroff, Bing Lieu, Herbert Reiskin, Richard Grymes. Second row: George Ganey, Ado Valge, Igor Robsman, Richard Reed, Allen Burgess.

The sunrise of Armistice Day found the corps paying homage to the Unknown Soldier; Inauguration Day found them marching in the traditional inaugural parade; the day of the competitions found each and every cadet, shoes and brass polished, head erect and chest out, helping his company make its bid for first place. Competitions mark the culmination of the year's training when proficiency and "esprit de corps" are at their height.

This year the cadet colonel, who is the top-ranking cadet in the city, and his staff were chosen from among the ranks of the Roosevelt Regiment.

Every activity, every drill, every event has been tuned this year as always to be of inestimable benefit to both the cadet and his school.

The Joy of Creating

Under the direction of Miss Thompson, the music department has again proved that "music hath charms" by providing the school and the public with a highly enjoyable year.

Commencements, National Honor Society inductions, and special assemblies profited from the talent of the orchestra.

Among their assemblies, public appearances, and radio broadcasts, the chorus rates the program given over AU's campus station on March 14 as one of the best.

Then, too, Philip Lorenz, making his debut with the National Symphony Orchestra on February 26, added to the outstanding reputation of our music department.

The Spring Concert, consisting of George Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing" and an all American musical program, was an example of the co-operation between the orchestra, chorus, and students.

Genius at work! Philip Lorenz, conscious only of his piano, proves that practice makes perfect.

"O Sole Mio!" George Murray accompanies Maria Pastro, Emory Morris, Gem Grove, Alan Levine, Miriam Tostlebe, Pat Purcell, Randolph Russell, Marlene Billy, and Elizabeth Sugg as they rehearse a number for the AU's campus station broadcast.

That looks great!

Intently examining John Tseronis' design are Richard Lawrie, Marvin Levy, Bing Lieu, James Fong, Harold Williamson, William Wesley, Igor Robsman, Slava Robsman, and Larry Millstein, from the mechanical drawing class.

Sew what! Yetta Goldman knows that "curiosity killed the cat" so she's waiting till Janice Franklin's masterpiece is completed. Nancy Atkins concentrates.

Public recognition in the form of awards and pride in an end attained have brought much satisfaction to our artistically inclined. The art of today, realistic and abstract, was the field explored by the students.

In the scholastic competition sponsored by Jelleff's, Gerald Wartofsky and Geeming Lin won 25 gold keys this year, with a total of 48 going to Roosevelt students.

Students of the mechanical drawing classes entered the Metropolitan Washington Home Design Competition, the annual science fair, and the National Ford Industrial Arts Contest.

But artistic talents are not confined to our art and mechanical drawing classes. Clothes of all colors and materials are produced by our talented and hard-working seamstresses.

No Banker's hours here! Nancy Murray balances the books. Joanna Sauls and Nancy Jackson are entering deposits.

The presses roll. Operators are Frank Debole and Ronald Weaver.

Service rendered by the Red Cross and the stage crew and by students in the print shop, business office, and bank is vital to life at Roosevelt.

The bank carries a great load in holding savings for students and teachers, banking the funds of all school organizations and selling all tickets. It is a full scale banking institution.

The print shop does all the mimeographing for the teachers, such as tests, bibliographies, and class projects. All tickets and programs are also produced by the off printing process.

The Red Cross has brought much joy into the hospitals in this area. Decks of playing cards were brought in by the hundreds for the servicemen. Early in the morning in room 208, there are always some of our year-round Santas cutting and pasting crossword puz-

Business is business as Mrs. Dore and Mrs. Kidwell tap away at the typewriters. Phil Perlo answers the switchboard and the mimeograph machine is about to roll for Geraldine Braunstein.

zles, packing cookies, and drawing place cards and menus. They aren't weak Santas either, for some mornings they can be seen struggling up the stairs under a pile of magazines to help make up the grand total of 7,000 which the Red Cross has collected.

The club, under the direction of Mrs. Dutton, has worked hard, but it is happy with its reward, the satisfaction of helping others.

Lights! Camera! Action! The curtain pulling, the sharp clarity of the microphones, the moving of stage furniture, and technical operations required in the school is carried on by the stage crew.

Meeting every day under the direction of Mr. Russell, they are the men behind the wings of all Roosevelt productions.

The business office is another spot where students contribute to the smooth running of the school. Operating the switchboard, filing pupils' programs, compiling the daily absence lists, and mimeographing the daily bulletins are duties performed by them. The office also acts as an information center for students, teachers, and visitors.

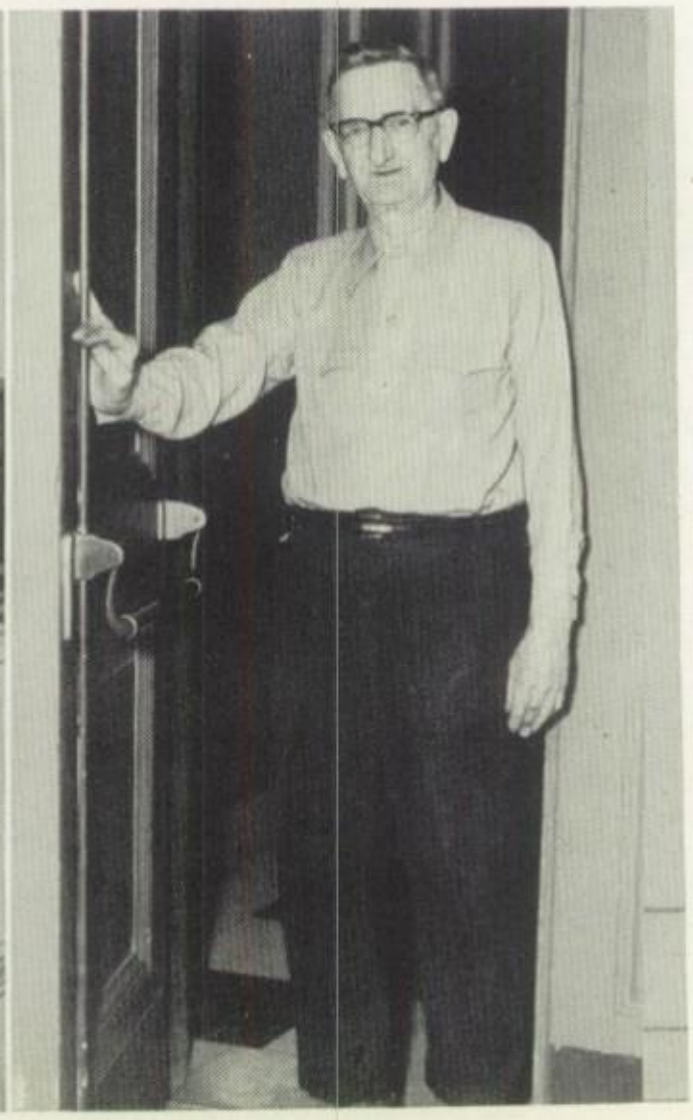
Mr. Leahy briefs Rusty Cuthbertson and Frankie Dodd on what's for lunch.

Indispensable

Edison has nothing on our Mr. Cornwell. He invented the electric light but it takes Mr. Cornwell to keep it shining.

Where Irish eyes are smiling, you will find Mrs. Gallahan, affectionately known to the students as Maisie.



Mr. Stant takes a breather before starting his daily assignment at 3 o'clock, that of restoring order out of the school day's chaos.

"Come and get it!" Ruth White and Georgette Sauli serve chow to Lauren Richter, Harold Harrigan, Bob Wright, and Kenny Psira.

"A-a-h-h!" No case, not even that of Eleanor Nachlas, fazes our Mrs. Nowlan.

It's time for a change. Mrs. Krafft, dietitian, pinch hits at the cash register.

Silence reigns, as befits a library, as Janet Minter, Miriam Tostlebe, James Deoudes, Phil Sumpter, and Jack Van Kinsberger study.

The students twist and turn in their seats before the 3:00 bell rings. Then they are on their way. Some rush to work and some home to get their homework done before dinner. A few go to a club meeting where they enjoy themselves by talking. eating, being entertained, and furthering their hobbies and knowledge while others go to a game or a practice.

All thoughts of school are forgotten as we enjoy ourselves for a few hours after 3:00.

The Day Isn't Over Yet

GIRL CADET BOOSTERS Roosevelt's Cadet Corps can always count on the Girl Cadet Boosters to root for them, whether it be in the pouring rain, or the sizzling sun—anytime, or anyplace.

The main purpose of this large organization is to promote an interest in our cadets, and to support their outside activities.

The Boosters have provided the hungry he-men with refreshments and entertainment at numerous picnics. At tea dances, and at a super Valentine Ball, they have made the boys certain that the club is worth while.

At competitions, the gals cheer their heads off to give the cadet morale a "boost"—thus the name Cadet Boosters.

SABRE CLUB Despite public opinion, the Sabre Club's main function is not to practice the art of fencing, but to secure "esprit de corps" among the cadets at Roosevelt.

One of the highlights of the year was the somewhat traditional "Officer-Non-Com" football game.

This year the Sabre Club sponsored the Regimental Inaugural Ball. which is. aside from the Brigade Ball, the biggest event of the cadet social year.

RIFLE CLUB "Ready! Aim! Fire!—"

Hold it! There's no need in taking cover—it's only the Rifle Club going through routine practices. They fire real bullets, though. Fortunately, they don't use live targets. Organized for the purpose of acquainting boys with fire arms that may become necessary knowledge in later life, the club is under the direction of Lt. Giasson and is one of the Cadet Corps' most enjoyable activities.

The National Honor Society was founded to encourage students to take pride in scholarship and to stimulate an interest in the activities of the school. Students admitted to this society must be outstanding in intelligence, service, leadership, and character—basis of good citizenship.

Two National Honor Society traditions are the "tapping" ceremony, held bi-annually, in which new members are inducted; and the semester tea given for pupils who made the honor roll the previous semester.

R CLUB Tops in sports, gayety, and good deeds for the school, the R Club is under the direction of Mr. Brown and is composed of all male letter winners in any field of athletics.

It is an established fact that the best in good times comes from the R Club, which is mainly a social organization. Its annual picnic thrown in the true tradition of this group and its yearly dance help make this club well known and well liked by all Roosevelt students.

"Step right up! Cokes are only a dime." Abe Leach, Ronnie Hollander, Morris Antonelli, Dave Bialek, John Tseronis, "R" Club members, sell Barty Meyers a coke.

The last Tuesday in every month finds members of Le Cercle Français roaming the halls looking for tea pots, napkins, and the keys to the wardrobe closet. Someone is always yelling that he can't get the dressing room door open and French classes are interrupted by a crash of the back door and a streak to the green cabinet.

The afternoon, however, brings entertaining results from this turmoil. In the clubroom you will find a play, a quiz show, a contest, or a Spanish baritone singing French songs, and refreshments, plus Mrs. Girard, the faculty adviser, renowned for her sense of humor and tests.

Le Cercle Français helps the pupils to get a better understanding of the French language and people and it joins enthusiastically in all school projects.

"Et la tete, et le cou" sing Randolph Russell, Robert Mills, Eddie Korn, George Clifford, Richard Reed, Felix Huaman, and Alan Berger, while Ado Valge grins and bears it.

LATIN CLUB Want your fortune told by the Delphic Oracle? Like the fragrant odor of burning incense? Then drop in at the Latin Club meeting on the third Tuesday of the month.

Besides fortune telling, the members put on skits, quizzes, talks on Roman authors and the lives and times of the Romans for the rest of the club, under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth O. Wofford.

This is amusement combined with entertainment, to the enjoyment of all.

GERMAN CLUB Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Would you like to learn? That's one of the objectives of the German Club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Brook, this group presents short skits depicting familiar German anecdotes and listens to recordings in Deutsch. Other entertainment varies from inspiring speakers von Deutschland to the singing of rhythmic German songs.

GERMAN CLUB First row: Ilga Terauds, Jack Luria, Georgette Sauli, Ronnie Rosen, President; Harold Glazier, Vice President; Valerie Lorenz, Secretary; Morris Casper, Treasurer; Beatrice Stern, Peter Enis, Louisa Demas, Alan Fishman. Second row: Miss Brook, Adviser; Madelaine Zeender, Philip Lorenz, Barbara Schlegel, Stanley Platnik, Richard Hyman, Ronnie Leinson, Irene Krivickas, Reed Verling, Lillian Karska, Emory Morris, Susan McHenry.

SPANISH CLUB First row: Phyllis Mensh, Jackie Schiller, Esperana Aguero, Sosie Najarian, Treasurer; Merton Lynn, Program Chairman; Sandra Glaser, President; Sandra Schaefer, Secretary; Shirley Peltin, Judy Friedenstein, Elizabeth Sugg, Elaine Williams, Reva Rosenberg, Barbara Tribble. Second row: Jaime Pichardo, Cynthia Siegel, Norma Klaben, Barbara Rogers, Barbara Richter, Lynn Potash, Mary Poms, Rhoda Migdal, Davita Clift, Carolyn Kimball, Carol Schaub, Mary Harper, June Barrett, Roberta Jewler. Third row: Vincent Tranchitella, Rita Jacobson, Gerrie Honikman, Brenda Gins, Arlene Schlein, Naomi Yockelson, Mary Busby, Pat Kendrick, Carlene Cuthbertson, Pat Smith, Lynne Bennett, Marcia Johnston, Shirley Lemley, Elaine Lethbridge, Anne Carlton, Joe Hein. Fourth row: Ronald Corkrill, Leonard White, Barbara Naiman, Barbara Albert, Delia Tirado, Helen Kas, Arlene Gordon, Ruth Wool, Joan Sirota, Marie Novos, Eleanor Heyman, Anne Frank, Yetta Goldman, Robert Hough, Fred Jacobs. Fifth row: Johnny Mercado, Felix Huaman, Morton Goldstein, Benjamin Litvin, David White, Ta-Hsung Tung, Jack Shenk, Gerald Wolf, Charles Stirling, Randy Russell, Frank Finke, Gabriel Kavadias, Morris Antonelli, Marty Rosensky, Eddie Bowers.

SPANISH CLUB Senorita Carol Schaub clicks her castanets as Senor Morris Antonelli provides Latin American background music.

SPANISH CLUB On the first Tuesday of every month, the members of the Spanish Club take a trip south of the border (imaginary, of course), and study the songs, dances, language, and customs of our Latin American amigos.

As evidenced by the large membership and by the large attendance at meetings, the entertainment, provided by Spanish students, consisting of native songs and dances. is well received.

Interesting discussions on the Southern half of the Americas are held, and the meetings are eagerly looked forward to, both for the good times enjoyed by all, and last, but not least, for the famed reputation they have for refreshments.

SCIENCE CLUB (top) The purpose of the science club is to introduce to students the various fields of science and the fun and knowledge which can be gained by participating in scientific experiments, projects and field trips.

The club is a proving ground for the discovery of talent based on science for entering the city wide and national science fairs and the Westinghouse Scholarship examination, as well as to prepare for careers and hobbies in Science.

CAMERA CLUB If someone leaps in front of you while you are walking in the hall or running across the gym, don't be frightened. It's probably a member of the Camera Club, trying to take an unusual snapshot of you. Its deranged members are all camera bugs, anxious to snap a picture of anyone, in an unconventional position.

The members of this club meet every Tuesday in the dark room under the direction of Miss Dickert.

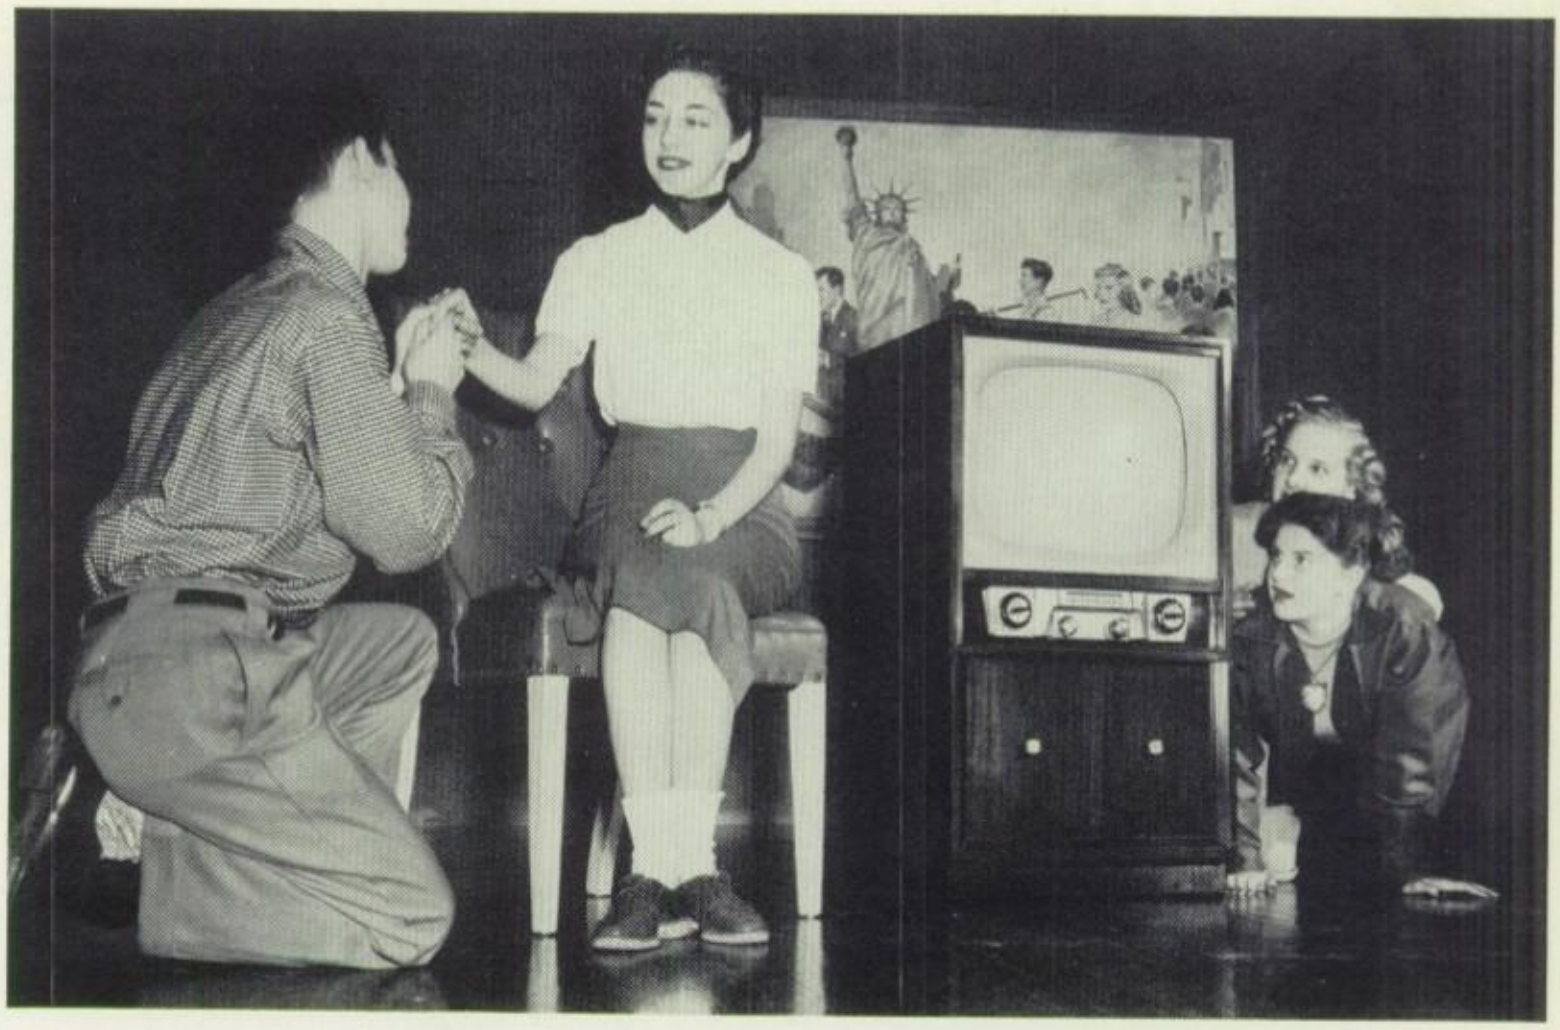
DISCUSSION CLUB (top) Hear ye! Hear ye! Should we recognize Fascist Spain? Can the U.N. solve the World's Problems? These are but a few of the problems formulating the basis of the heated debates at the Discussion Club, which under the direction of Miss Johnson, sends much noise into the corridors every other Monday.

BIBLE CLUB "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." Psalm 119:105. This is the motto of the Bible Club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Helen White, the club has tried to promote an interest in the study of the Bible. Other religions of the world have been studied and the members have sought a measure of understanding of the various Christian denominations.

BIBLE CLUB First row: Joanne Loftus, President; Mary Lee Roach, Secretary-Treasurer. Second row: Patricia Johnson, Anita Boyd, Nicolette Kakavas, Eloise Lohr, Vice President; Lynne Benton, Mary Jane Busby, Nella Calamos, Jean Moore, Lucille Corbin, Marilyn Swindell, Barbara Sanford, Marianne Loftus, Virginia Ritchie. Third row: Elaine Williams, Nancy Willis, Martha Snow, Mary Spiker, Barbara Musselwhite, Bettie Richter, Judith Friedenstein, Sosie Najarian, Barbara Chappelear, Katherine Andrews, Adelaide Robinson.



Everyone's in on the act, but Mervyn Aronoff and Roberta Jewler are oblivious of busybodies Ann Goodman and Nancy Wells.

DRAMATIC CLUB The Dramatic Club, this year aimed at giving each of its members a chance to take part in one phase of putting on a play. The prompting, props, make-up committees, not to forget the actors, all got a taste of what goes on before a curtain, any curtain, goes up.

Make-up tricks for dramatic purposes were demonstrated at one meeting, recitations were given by each member at another, and at other meetings one-act plays were given.

A big event of the year was the Christmas assembly, in which the Dramatic Club assisted by taking part in tableaux while the chorus sang.

The Bernhardts and Barrymores that were discovered all knew they had it in them, and the majority of the club had one swell time getting together every month.

DRAMATIC CLUB First row: Bessie Antonopoulos, Barbara Diamond, Nancy Lancaster, Beatrice Stern, Treasurer; Alaknanda Das Gupta, Secretary; Heydon Cheigh, Vice President; Ann Goodman, President; Shirley Peltin, Shirley Rudolph, Roberta Jewler. Second row: Shiela Furstenberg, Jean Gillispie, Marion Geraci, Patricia Kendrick, Judith Segal, Deena Bacalman, Phyllis Kirson, Carol Hindin, Marilyn Revitz, Mary Torcisi, Alice Boimblatt, Naomi Kasachkoff. Third row: Goldie Weiss, Marilyn Rosenthal, Toba Cassel, Jeanne Lucas, Helen Bechas, Joan Sirota, Phyllis Grossman, Eleanor Nachlas, Sarah Dickerson, Frances Slaughter, Marie Vines, Marianne Loftus, Miss Smith, Adviser. Fourth row: David Pond, George Clifford, Ronald Hufham, James Keene, Barbara Schlegel, Elizabeth Nelson, Jackie Schiller, Lawrence Millstein, Erik Soronen, Mervyn Aronoff, Mohsen Chaderchy.

Y-TEEN CLUB (top) Although the Y-Teen Club is for "girls only," the activities aren't limited to "girls only." The men are not entirely excluded. Co-ed dances, presented on alternate Saturday nights by all the Y-Teen organizations in the Area, give the members a diversion from their regular meetings.

During the year, the Y-Teens render world service by making scrapbooks and collecting canned foods and chocolate bars for overseas. On the "home front," authorities give the gals advice on careers and how to beautify themselves.

SECRETARIAL CLUB "On your marks, get set, go!" And then the typewriter keys begin clicking, or the pencils begin taking shorthand, and we know that we've walked into a Secretarial Club meeting. These future secretaries are given the chance to note their progress and practice what they will do on their job.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Katie Frizzell, the club has advanced toward its goal, efficient and competent stenos and typists.

A tremendous fighting spirit and a powerful will to win—that's what 1952 gave Roosevelt in the way of gridiron tools. And pretty fair tools they must have been for when combined with two coaches like Lou Chacos and Frank August and mixed freely with such stars as Phil Perlo, Robbie Smithers, Bill Amos, and Jack Gyorda, they produced a second place club which struck fear into the folds of every football power in the District.

Losing only twice—to City Champion, Wilson and runner-up St. John's—the Riders were a smooth-working organization featuring a potent offense and a stone-wall defense.

Employing a split-T attack, led by the clever ball handling and passing of Phil Perlo and the hard running of Robbie Smithers, the Riders were a swift striking unit.

After dropping their opener to the Johnnies, they bowled over McKinley, Tech, Anacostia, arch rival Coolidge, Bell and Suitland while losing only to all-conquering Wilson in the closing seconds of the game, 12-6.

Running like clockwork with an offense more likened to a top college outfit, Roosevelt had a hard driving ground game and a powerful aerial attack.

On defense it was Bill Amos, Dave Preinkert, Malcolm Mugmon, Frank Debole, and Ado Valge leading line that averaged 200 pounds or better, moulded into a forward wall that compared with any in the city. Backing up in the secondary was Mike Kavounis and Charlie Stirling plus first-string offensive halfback, Robbie Smithers, Joe Gregory and safety man, Phil Perlo who rounded out a top notch defensive alignment.

Much of the success of this fine season was due to the great job of head coach, Lou Chacos. A member of the 1935 championship squad at Central High School, Chacos turned to coaching after a career at Maryland under T-master, Clark Shaughnessey. Coaching at Charlotte Hall and then at Central, Lou came to Roosevelt in 1950 and has since turned the Orange and Blue into a gridiron powerhouse.

A winning season, a great team and a roll full of stars, on and off the field—that's what the Rough Riders leave behind as their 1952 contribution to the football traditions of Roosevelt.

Champions Without a Cup

The name of Roosevelt was to District scholastic basketball play in 1952-53 as the Yankees were to major league baseball—the top squad and the team to beat.

Rough Rider fans were given something to really yell about as the Orange and Blue swept by 19 straight opponents before losing and compiled the most outstanding record in the area.

This was a powerful Roosevelt squad, strong in all respects—coaching, rebounding and teamwork—and a team that set an interhigh scoring record, bettering the old mark set last year by all conquering McKinley Tech.

Playing the best brand of ball in the District, the Riders were a smooth quintet, calling on snappy passing and teamwork to win instead of individual standouts. Working well, they combined a good fast break with a well balanced offense to run roughshod over most opponents.

Coach Gabe Ferazzi, former Central High mentor, enjoyed his best year at Roosevelt in 1952-3. After steering two Central teams to the title, Ferazzi came to Roosevelt and has since lifted the Riders to the top position they now hold. A stern fundamentalist and a great stickler for "team offense," he moulded his squad into a swift striking unit and assisted by ex-A.U. standout, Ed Moffatt, produced a winning team. Moffatt, who voluntarily offered to help out, was extremely valuable, aiding the "big men" to a great extent and scrimmaging with the team.

Led by the sterling play of Phil Perlo, Bill Wright, Hal Pollin, Robbie Smithers, and Richie Preziotti, the Roughs had a scrappy first five. Perlo's scoring led the team, mostly on driving lay-ups and one handed push shots around the circle, and also paced the squad in assists and ball handling. Setting up many fine plays and passing beautifully, Phil resulted indirectly in 10 or 12 baskets a game besides his own scoring.

Wright, whose dazzling long set shots were a big threat, was second to Perlo in scoring. A good rebounder, he helped Hal Pollin out under the boards to give us the best protection in the area. Pollin, whose main task was clearing rebounds, was a most valuable standout. Hooking well on the left side of the basket and possessing a good jump shot, Hal literally sparkled on both offense and defense.

Robbie Smithers and Richie Preziotti helped round out the first five. Smithers' driving lay-ups, and rebounding plus his all around hustle and fight were inspirational to the rest of the team. Playing his heart out until the final buzzer, Robbie was admired by his teammates and fans who looked to him when the "chips were down." Preziotti was a third semester student who crashed the starting ranks all the way up from the J.V. squad. A sure set from the outside and a smooth ball handler, Richie, although with little experience, was a steadying hand and a top notch performer.

Here, then was a team that beat the best in the area —St. Johns, Washington and Lee, Gonzaga, Wilson— and won no championship. Yet here was a squad, who was a champion in their own way, a champion in team play, and a winner in the eyes of most District fans.

"Grrr. Out of my way" seems to be Bill Wright's attitude as he swings his right leg high and hard as a mark of authority. Roosevelt's Hal Pollin lends a friendly assist.

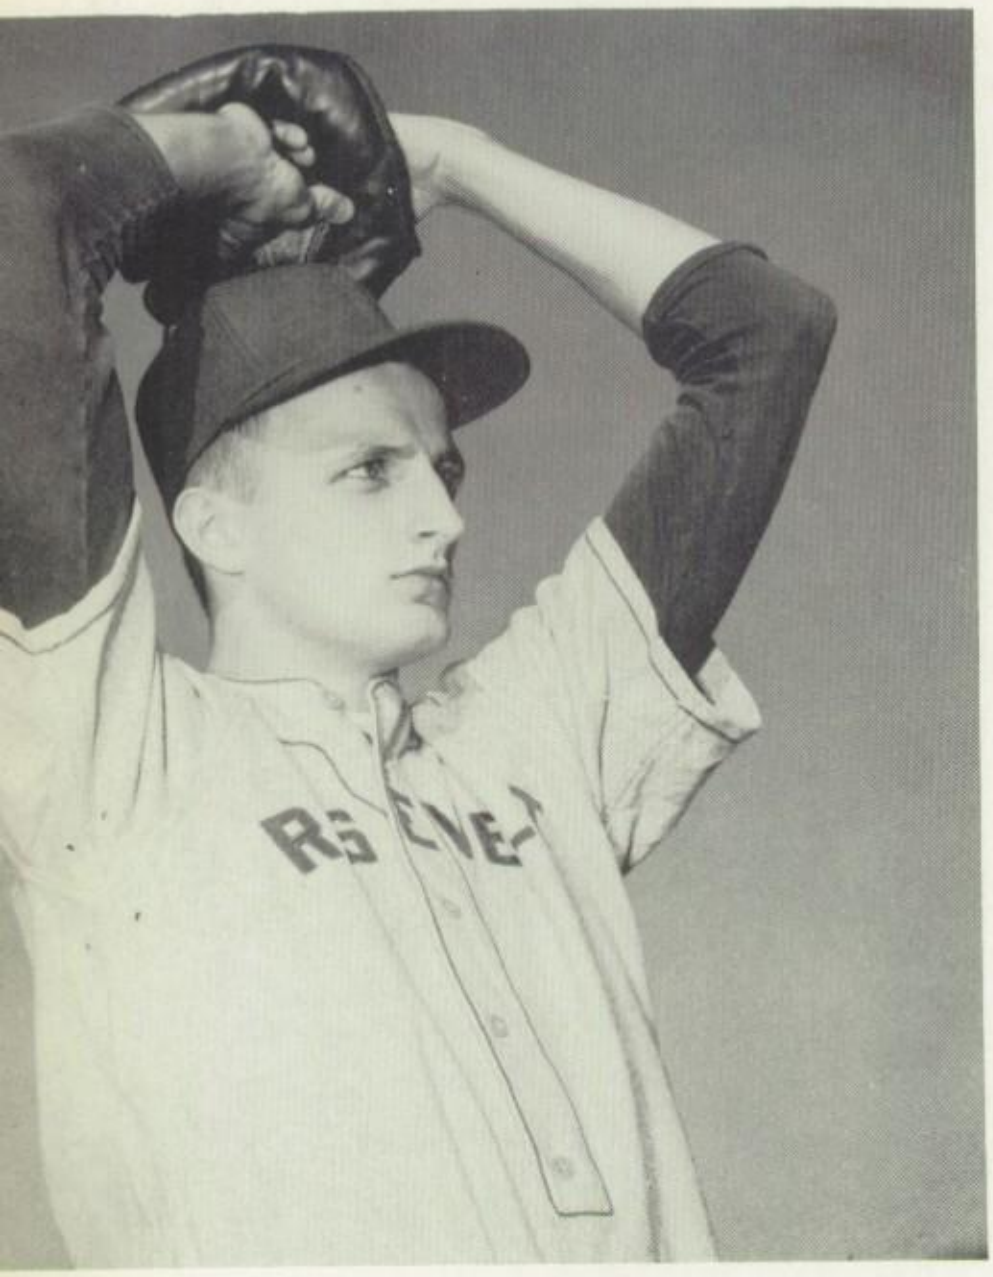
Another Top Notch Array



The Number 1 pitcher in interhigh circles. Bill Wright, Rider hurler, demonstrates his windup for the camera.

Spring is in the air—and so are baseballs, tennis balls, golf balls, shot puts, and discs. Especially here at Roosevelt that's true, for with such outstanding teams, there is always great enthusiasm for spring athletics.

This season, 1953, was highly successful as has usually been the case in the last few years. Featuring a hard-hitting nine led by the slugging of all-high Robbie Smithers and Phil Perlo, and paced by the swift hurling of Bill Wright, the Riders had a powerful diamond crew. Relying on a steady defensive infield, spotted with new faces, Coach Ferazzi molded a winning combination. Add to this a slugging outfield and you have a top notch team.

Ferazzi, after a year's absence from the coaching ranks of the Riders' baseball squad, was faced with a seemingly bright outlook as holdovers from last year's team included Bill Wright, Phil Perlo, Robbie Smithers, Joel Rosenbloom, John Tseronis, Gene Hodge, Sheldon Kogod, Peyton German, Barton Meyers, and George Murray.

Wright, who sparkled during the summer as a pitcher in the Anacostia Recreational League, handled the hurling chores for the Riders. Possessing a good fast ball and curve, Wright was the key to the Riders' success and he, along with Perlo and Smithers, were the big sticks on the squad.

They carried the load! Phil Perlo, s.s.; Robbie Smithers, o.f.; Peyton German, p.; Bill Wright, p.; John Tseronis, o.f.; Sheldon Kogod, c.; Joel Rosenbloom, 2b., pose on the sidelines during a practice session.

Here it comes and there it goes! Sheldon Kogod (20), Rider catcher, takes his turn at the plate and gets hold of one. Alfred Biggs, backstop, waits where the ball should have been.

Perlo, all-high shortstop and also filling in as catcher when needed, was one of the area's outstanding players. A smooth fielder and top-flight hitter, Phil was a take-charge guy and a leader on the diamond. Smithers, who smashed out a convincing .387 average last year and, who also was all-high, was back in the outfield to give the Riders ample protection in left field and much power in the batting order, while John Tseronis and Joel Rosenbloom, defensive stalwarts in the outfield and second base, were in their old spots, adding to the Roughs' stability.

Newcomers who rated a long look were Richie Preziotti, Alvin Richman, Monk Casper, Eddie Atkinson, Hal Pollin, and Irwin Mendelson, all of whom were infielders, steady performers, and a great asset.

Power plus—the old 1-2. Roosevelt's big guns at the plate, Robbie Smithers and Phil Perlo, take their cuts. Many runs came across in 1952 as a result of their booming bats.

It went that-a-way.

Spotlighting Spring Sports

The spiked shoe and cinder track won many a race for Roosevelt this year. With Dave Bialek, Richard Morgan. and David Carpenter the most outstanding runners and jumpers, the Riders had another winning season.

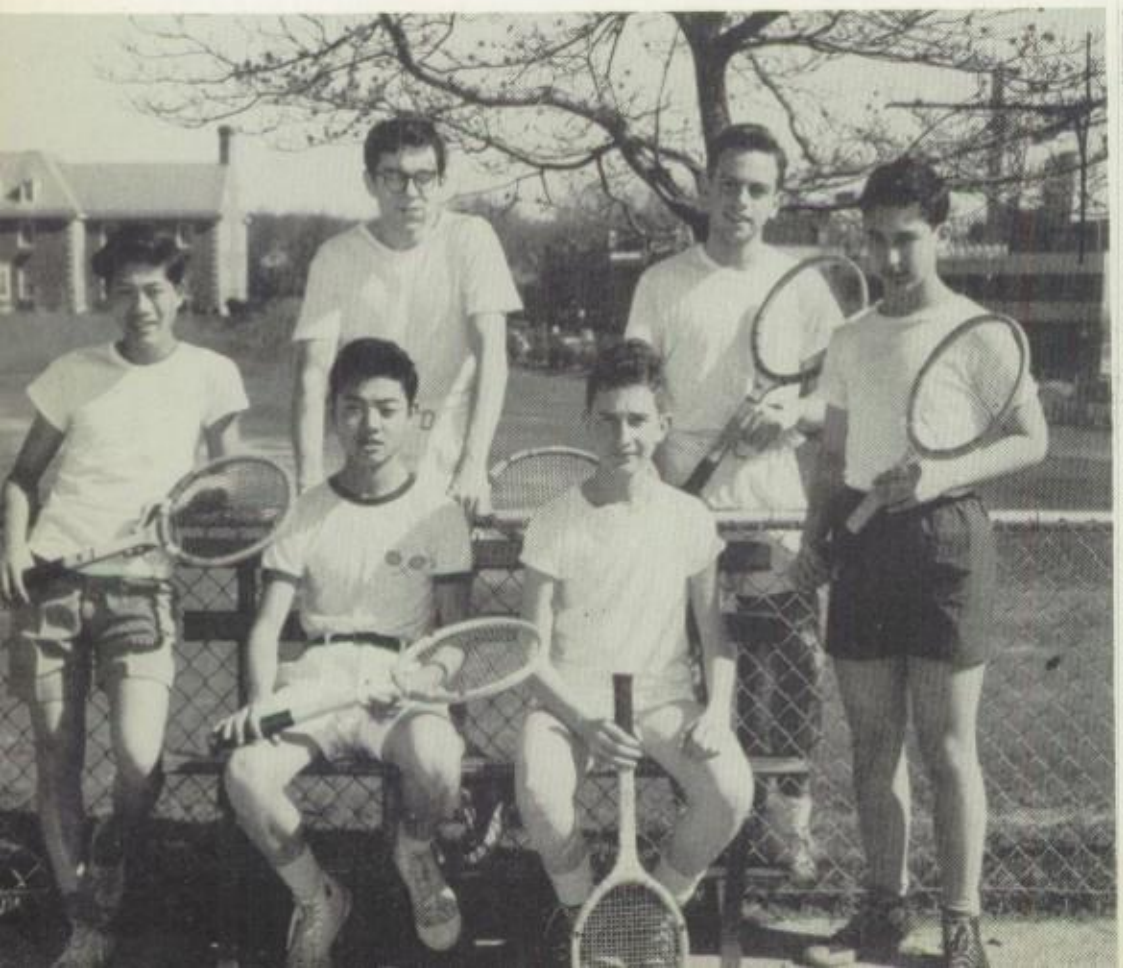
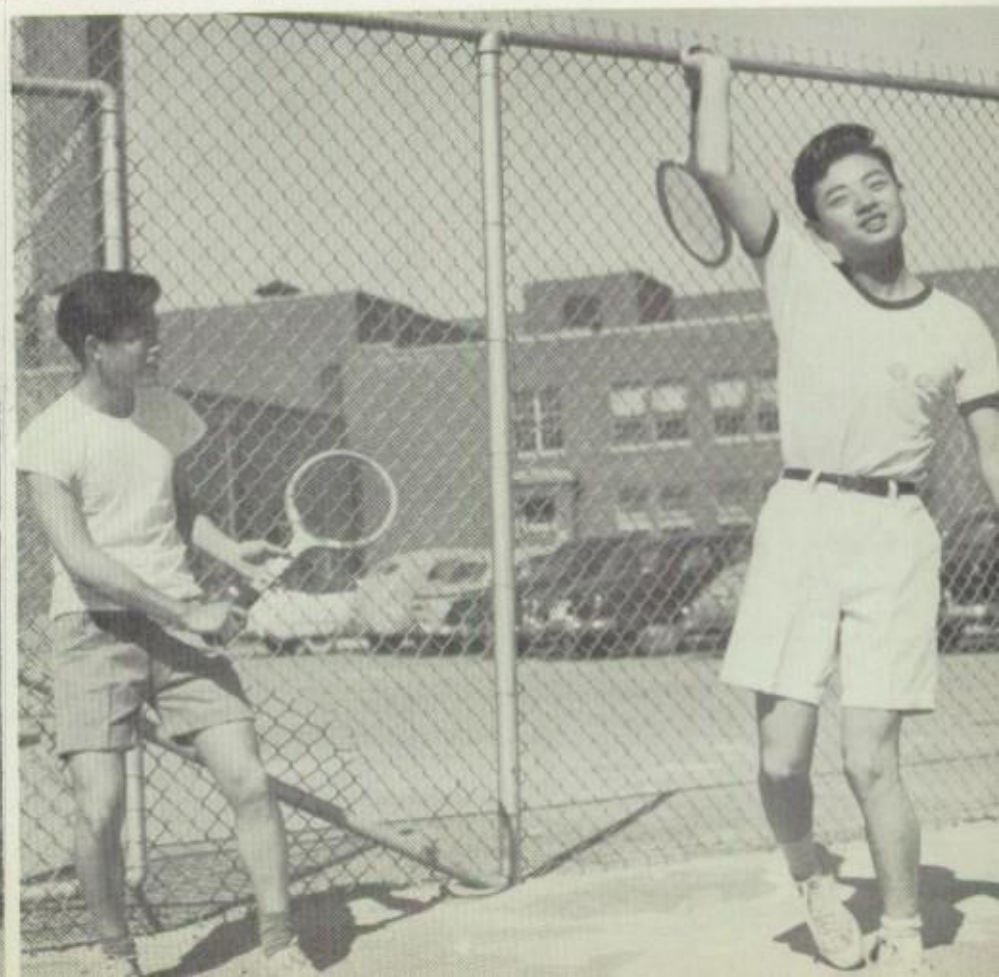
The field events were headed by the work of Dave Preinkert and Bill Amos in the shot put and discus throw and aided the Roosevelt point total greatly.

Tennis matches gave the Roughs another chance to strut their abilities with Jackson Yang, Geeming Lin, and Philip Lorenz playing outstanding tennis all season. The undersized, 15-year-old Yang was a powerful factor in raising the Roughs to their high net position with his sterling performances and team leadership.

With Peter Pammel and Ronnie Kransdorf consistently scoring under par, Roosevelt came up with an average golf team. Handicapped by the lack of material to choose from, Coach Chacos whipped his boys into good shape and produced a fine squad.





Heads up!
Bill Amos is on the final whirl of his windup and is about to let fly in the discus throw.

Pat Isaacs, Nancy Willis, Barbara Floyd, and Pat Sherer, string crepe paper around the armory for the Cadet Boosters' dance.

Lucky Cadets!

Marianne Loftus, Stuart Fedder, Wilma Taylor, and Stan Chatlan foxtrot at the Cadet Boosters' dance.

Helping Hand

A great interest in the school is shown by our Home and School Association.

Its open house in December and the annual tea for parents provided opportunities for mothers and dads to discuss problems and to join in civic affairs.

A dance recital on May 8, serving of refreshments at the school dances and proms and cadet suppers gave the students a taste of the Association's hospitality.

The Executive Committee of the Home and School Association, Mrs. Lenkin, Mrs. Keene, President; Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Tostlebe, Mrs. Schoenfeld, Vice President, and Miss Stewart (standing) talk over pertinent problems.

Members of the Home and School Association serve refreshments and look over the couples at one of our dances.

Edward Geraci, Russell Pomeroy (standing), Doris Rosenberg, Mandell Bellmore, Lucille Beug, and Arlene Schlein (on floor) enjoy the TV set, gift of the Home and School Association.
